HELP & INFORMATION

Festival officials and volunteers wear purple high-visibility gilets – they are here to help you enjoy your day, so if you have a query, please ask.

There is a clearly marked first aid post in the Foyer.

Any general enquiries may be raised at the Smallholding Scotland Office in the Foyer.

WELCOME

Welcome to the 2024 Scottish Smallholder Festival. This is the thirteenth Festival and our second at the Royal Highland Centre, so we're starting to feel a bit more at home.

Our aims are unchanged – to provide an opportunity for education, information and inspiration for smallholders and aspiring smallholders here in Scotland, along with an opportunity to meet old friends, make new friends and have a grand time.

As always, there is a long list of “thank you”s – and despite our best efforts, it may not include everyone who has contributed – for any omissions, we apologise.

First of all, to the Scottish Government, without whose continued support despite these difficult times, the Festival could not happen. We won't single out individuals – they will, hopefully, know who they are –
THANK YOU

To our sponsors – Lantra Scotland, SRUC, Harbro and 3D2D; –our partner - RBST; and friends – Scottish Food Guide, Balcaskie Butchery, Grayshill, Forth Valley Vets, SAOS, Neil Jamieson Construction Ltd and Alpha Delta Machinery Co. – thank you

To those who donated prizes – Arthur & Joan Dent, E.H Thorne, Weschenfelder, Scotland Grows, The Country Smallholder, UAN Wool – thank you.

To the team at the Royal Highland Centre, whose knowledge of the venue and professional expertise continues to be invaluable.

To our judges, who freely give up their time to judge our showing classes; to our speakers, who come from all over the country and who give us all the opportunity to learn something new and to be inspired; to the folk with trade stand and craft stands, to livestock, equine and alpaca exhibitors, to the volunteers and the stewards and to the folk providing opportunities for hands-on “making and doing”. YOU ARE AMAZING!

We'd also like to draw your attention to the body that organises this event. Smallholding Scotland is an incorporated charitable organisation that aims to support and represent smallholders in Scotland. You'll find our office in the Foyer, so do come along and have a chat – and even better, join up!

And a final thank you to YOU, for coming. That's what makes it special and we hope you have a great day.

We welcome constructive feedback and we always have room for more folk on the organising team and for volunteers on the day of the event.

The 2025 Scottish Smallholder Festival will be held on Saturday 18th October at The Highland Hall, Royal Highland Centre.

SAOS - Proudly Supporting Scottish Smallholders

SAOS was formed as a Society to further co-operation in Scottish agricultural organisations in 1905. Over a hundred years later, co-ops remain key to SAOS's work, but this remit has expanded to explore and convert wider opportunities in food and drink supply chains, technology, innovation, data, quality assurance and climate change response.

All of our work is centred on getting the right people together and enabling them to work together more effectively.

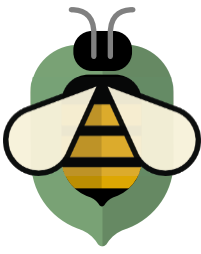

Underlining SAOS's commitment to local foods and small producers, we are proud supporters of the 2024 Scottish Smallholder Festival.

The co-op members of SAOS, which is itself a co-op, have a combined throughput of around £1.5 billion per annum, epitomising the power of #workingtogether.

EQUINES

For 2024, we once again delve into our equine heritage and we're delighted to welcome along representatives of some of our wonderful native breed horses and ponies and some that are not native, but equally delightful. Many folk getting into smallholding (and many existing smallholders) enjoy having an equine or two around the place – and they can do a job of work too.

10:00am & 2:00pm – Equine parade

Providing what promises to be a genuine spectacle, our horse masters will parade their wonderful horses and ponies. With a commentary by Jackie Thoms, there's a lot to know about these native breeds, many of which are very rare.

Throughout the day there will be access to equines in the Main Hall, including:

Cleveland Bay	Eriskay Pony	Highland Pony
New Forest Pony	Clydesdale Horse	Exmoor Pony
Fell Pony	Dales Pony	Shetland Pony

And two horses from the Police Scotland Mounted Branch

The organisers would like to express their thanks to all of the owners for taking the trouble to bring their horses along today.

ALPACAS

For 2024, we are delighted to be collaborating with the Scottish Alpaca Group to bring visitors an enhanced alpaca experience. Stuart Ramsay from Velvet Hall Alpacas will be making a presentation "Introduction to keeping alpacas" at 9.30am in Room 3, Foyer upper floor, then at 11.30am in the Alpaca Area of the Main Hall, Stuart will be explaining and demonstrating the finer points of alpaca fleece and how to produce it. Then at 1.30pm, there will be a practical session on alpaca health, welfare and husbandry.

There will be both Suri and Huacaya alpacas in the showcase.

This is an event not to be missed by anyone interested in these fascinating animals.

CATTLE

Our cattle showcase has been an integral part of the Festival since our first year. We aim to bring together examples of breeds most likely to be of interest to smallholders and regenerative farmers, so mainly native breeds but not always. There may be some in there you haven't seen before.

We are indebted to the owners who bring along their cattle to take part.

PIG PARADISE (IN THE CENTRAL HALL)

At Festival HQ, we know that pigs are an important part of many smallholdings, whether breeding, rearing, and processing as a business, or raising a couple of weaners for the freezer.

We are working with both the Rare Breed Survival Trust and with the British Pig Association to support their aims to protect and promote British traditional breeds of pig. All these breeds are under pressure and smallholders are in a unique and important position to help – and to produce and enjoy fantastic pork as well!

The Festival hosts the only pig show in Scotland and, under the stewardship of Alan Jamieson, our Pig Steward and the support of breeders from all over Britain, the event is going from strength to strength.

Come and read the information boards, watch in awe as the BPA qualified Judge picks the best pigs in the pig show and, of course, see the (almost) world renowned Pig Agility course, where there will be some chances for visitors to try their hand at taking pigs around an obstacle course designed to replicate some of the tricky maneuvers that pig keepers face daily on the farm.

So please do come and visit our Pig Paradise and have a chat to the keepers (and the pigs) – it's in the Central Hall through the Main Hall.
